Course Description

Course Format

This is a cognitive-development lecture and discussion course designed to assist in the development of pluralistically oriented and cross-culturally competent professional counselors. The course will examine conceptual and methodological issues related to cross-cultural and multicultural counseling through lectures, video-typed presentations, and demonstrations. There will be Blackboard group discussions as well as case study evaluations and counseling opportunities. All students will be expected to participate in intellectual discourse by drawing upon lectures, course materials and personal and professional experiences. The primary goal of the course will be to examine the impact of culture race, and ethnicity as mediating variables in counseling and psychotherapy. The various characteristics of cultures of different racial and ethnic minority groups that reside within the United States will be the major focal point of this course.

Course Goals

By the end of the course, it is expected that participants will demonstrate the following five competencies:

1. Awareness of one's own cultural values, beliefs and biases. This involves movement from cultural detachment to cultural sensitivity and acknowledgement of the impact of one's own cultural heritage, values, biases, language and communication style differences that may detract from or enhance the counseling process.
2. Awareness of potential clients' worldviews and the factors that shape them. This involves movement from ethnocentrism to informed cultural pluralism through acquiring specific information regarding the values, beliefs, and biases of cultural groups other than one's own.

3. Awareness of culturally consistent intervention strategies. This involves movement from a universalist counseling perspective to a contextualist perspective that includes acknowledgement of and respect for the client's attribution system including religious and/or spiritual beliefs and the client's expectation from professionals who occupy the role of healer.
4. Expertise in working with individuals and groups from culturally diverse backgrounds. These areas include educational, career, social, emotional, or personal issues that impact client development.
5. Clinical skills that represent awareness of diversity. These areas of diversity include race, gender, religion, ethnicity, ability status, nationality, and sexual orientation.

Multiculturalism and Inclusivity Statement: This course is taught in a manner that provides a safe, welcoming and inclusive environment for students of all racial, ethnic, gender identities and variances, sexual identities, social and economic classes, ages, ability statuses, religions and spiritual practices. Students are expected to use language and communication that is respectful and values all community members.

Course Assumption

1. Each individual has multiple identities and the relative salience of each identity to each individual will vary.
2. A positive identification with one's own ethnic, cultural and racial heritage provides a firm basis for understanding and respecting the worldviews of peoples with different ethnic, cultural and racial heritages.
3. Counselor in training will enter graduate study at different levels of racial awareness and ethnic identity development; successive levels of development may occur in stages or phases that are not necessarily linear.
4. The attitudes and behaviors of professional counselors and clients are substantially influenced by the historical and current manifestations of racism and other forms of oppression in the United States.
5. The acquisition of beliefs, attitudes, knowledge and skills needed to function as a culturally skilled professional counselor is a lifetime process that includes cognitive, affective, and experiential components. Progress in one domain does not necessarily lead to competence in another.
6. The fact of membership and socialization in an ethnic or racial group does not in itself qualify a counselor-in-training, a professional counselor, or a counselor educator to be a culturally skilled counselor with persons of that particular ethnic or racial group.
7. Completion of a single course in cross-cultural counseling, multicultural counseling, human relations training or diversity training is NOT sufficient to ensure that an individual is a culturally skilled counselor.

Counselor Education Program Objectives

The program develops counselors who:

- Develop a theoretically solid philosophy of practice;
- Apply knowledge, skills, and dispositions consistent with the ACA Code of Ethics;
- Formulate a professional identity that responds to the needs of their client populations;
- Utilize cultural competence in practice;
- Act with expertise in individual, group, and family counseling with diverse clients on personal, social, emotional, career, and educational issues that impact development across their lifespan;
- Develop leadership ability and advocate to meet client needs and to remove individual and systemic barriers to development;

- Build and sustain collaborative partnerships with stakeholders for promoting social justice, equity, and access;
- Utilize appropriate assessment tools and procedures;
- Consult with others concerning the developmental needs of culturally diverse clients;
- Integrate research data into evidence-based practice.

The following CACREP Standards (2016) are addressed in the Multicultural and Gender Issues in Counseling Course:

Section 2: Professional Counseling Identity

F. The eight common core areas represent the foundational knowledge required of all entry level counselor education graduates. Therefore, counselor education programs must document where each of the lettered standards listed below is covered in the curriculum.

2. Social and Cultural Diversity

- multicultural and pluralistic characteristics within and among diverse groups nationally and internationally
- theories and models of multicultural counseling, cultural identity development, and social justice and advocacy
- multicultural counseling competencies
- the impact of heritage, attitudes, beliefs, understandings, and acculturative experiences on an individual's views of others
- the effects of power and privilege for counselors and clients
- help-seeking behaviors of diverse clients
- the impact of spiritual beliefs on clients' and counselors' worldviews
- strategies for identifying and eliminating barriers, prejudices, and processes of intentional and unintentional oppression and discrimination

7. Assessment and Testing

- Ethical and culturally relevant strategies for selecting, administering, and interpreting assessment and test results

Course Expectations: Attendance, Participation, Late assignments, Make-up Policy

University Attendance Policy

Class attendance is expected of students at North Carolina Central University and represents a foundational component of the learning process in both traditional on-campus and online courses. Students should attend all sessions of courses for which they are registered for the entire scheduled period and are responsible for completing all class assignments. Instructors will keep attendance records in all classes. Instructors must clearly state on the syllabus how class attendance will factor into the final grade for the course. Faculty will include a written statement of the attendance guidelines in their course syllabi and will review the guidelines during the first class session. As of Fall 2017 NW and NF attendance grades will no longer be assigned.

If a student misses three consecutive class meetings, or misses more classes than the instructor deems advisable, in addition to entering the information into Grades First, the instructor will report the facts to the student’s academic dean for appropriate follow-up. Students who miss class to participate in university-authorized activities are given excused absences for the missed class time. It is the student’s responsibility to inform the instructor of such activities at least one week before the authorized absence, and to make up all work as determined by the instructor.

NCCU Class Attendance Regulation

Students who do not attend classes during the first two (2) weeks of class will be dropped due to non-attendance. Students must attend at least one day to confirm attendance in the course. Students who do not attend before the census date will be dropped. After the census date (the 10th day of class), any student who misses the equivalent of two (2) weeks of class meetings or 13.3% of total instructional time prior to the determined drop date for the university (as noted in the Academic Calendar) will receive an automatic grade of WA (withdrawal due to lack of attendance) at the point of the withdrawal date. This will be the final grade for the grading period. This grade will automatically be entered by the faculty member teaching the course. For more information, please visit: <https://www.nccu.edu/policies/retrieve/41>

Dispositions and Participation

As a part of your attendance and participation evaluation, students are also graded regarding the following criteria:

- 1) Demonstration of attitudes, behaviors, and dispositions consistent with appropriate responses to critical feedback from the instructor, appropriate interactions and relationships with other students, and adherence to the ACA Code of Ethics.

- 2) Demonstration of dispositions consistent with an inclusive, multicultural, and ethical counseling role in promoting well-being, healthy relationships, academic success, and career mastery
- 3) Demonstration of effective leadership skills;
- 4) Active engagement in class activities and participate as a group member; and
- 5) Contributions to class discussion displaying critical and creative thinking skills.

(**See the most recent version of the ACA code of ethics and the NCCU Counseling Student Handbook for more on Expected Student Dispositions and Behaviors.)

Being Active in the Community: Your attendance and participation are fundamental to the learning process of this course. You contribute unique experiences and resources that are necessary for and valuable to creating an optimal educational and learning environment for yourself and your classmates. Your participation grade is based on your participation in all class discussions (discussion boards) and activities. This includes regularly reading what others are writing and contributing to the discussion. Contributing to a discussion is not just about responding to a discussion board prompt from the instructor. It is about communicating with your classmates and personalizing the course as much as possible. Connect (virtually) with your classmates.

If you miss any discussion boards and/or assigned assessments, then you will receive fewer participation points for this element, perhaps as many as ten points for each discussion board or missed assessment. Please note that your discussion board entries must be made during their assigned weeks (not late or "after the fact") – and assessments must be taken when assigned.

Overall, you will receive a final grade based on the number of points you obtain during the semester. If you fail to complete any UNIT folder by its deadline, you will receive zero points for that UNIT's work. No make-up is provided. UNIT folders are not made available again after the deadline for the UNIT expires.

Guidelines for Class Etiquette, Discussion, and Communication

- At times the instructor will contact students via their email address. It is expected that students will check the NCCU email daily. Should students have any questions or concerns please feel free to contact the instructor via email or office phone.
- Everyone will respect each other in the course.
- Controversial topics and/or opinions may arise during the course of class discussion that may cause strong feelings or emotions. It is important that any debate of these topics and opinions be discussed in a respectful and courteous manner. Please be mindful, respectful, and courteous of others as you are participating in these discussions. It is important that there be respectful and conscientious dialogue generated from this course.

Assignment Policy

All assignments and exams must be completed and uploaded to Blackboard either under the course assignment page under the appropriate assignment link to the instructor on time in order to receive a passing grade in the course. Do not email assignments. To be considered on time completed assignments must be submitted no later than on the due date and time (see course calendar for due dates). Each week's work will be available for one week. Each week you will have until 11:59PM on Monday to submit your work for the week. An assignment is late when it is not received at on the date it is due. Late assignments will automatically receive a reduced letter grade in addition to any reductions during the grading process. Missing assignment deadlines will not be excused.

Incomplete Grades and Excused Absences

Will be handled on an individual basis and only granted in exceptional circumstances.

Make-up exams and quizzes are not given unless you have a University recognized excuse (e.g. religious holiday, death in the family, medically excused absence due to illness, inclement weather, or participation in a University related athletic event). Vacations, holidays not recognized by the University, or job-related issues that conflict with assignments, quizzes, and/or exams are not University recognized excuses.

Writing

Assigned papers must be typewritten following APA 7th edition manual, using 12-point Times New Roman font. All written assignments should have correct use of APA, grammar, and be free of spelling errors, as neglecting to do so will result in point deduction.

Basic APA Style Tutorial: <http://www.apastyle.org/learn/tutorials/basics-tutorial.aspx>

Three resources for improving writing:

- 1) Consult the current edition of the APA manual.
- 2) You may also go to the University's writing and speaking studio: Phone number contact is 919-530-6035 and for more detailed information go to the web page at <http://www.nccu.edu/administration/academicaffairs/writingstudio/index.cfm>;
- 3) Read peer reviewed journals articles in the counseling field to learn how academic papers should be written.
- 4) Consult a grammar handbook like Glenn and Gray's (2012) The Hodges Harbrace Handbook (18th Edition).

Statement of Inclusion/Non-Discrimination

North Carolina Central University is committed to the principles of affirmative action and non-discrimination. The University welcomes diversity in its student body, its staff, its faculty, and its administration. The University admits, hires, evaluates, promotes, and rewards on the basis of the needs and relevant performance criteria without regard to race, color, national origin, ethnicity, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, genetic information, veteran's status, or religion. It actively promotes diversity and respectfulness of each individual.

Students who are already registered with SAS and who would like to maintain their accommodations must renew previously granted accommodations by visiting the SAS website at www.nccu.edu/sas and logging into Eagle Accommodate. Students are expected to renew previously granted accommodations at the beginning of each semester, preferably during the first two (2) weeks of class. Reasonable accommodations can be requested at any time throughout the semester; however, they will not be effective retroactively. Students are strongly encouraged to contact their professors to discuss the testing and academic accommodations that they anticipate needing for each class. Students identifying as pregnant or other pregnancy-related conditions who would like to request reasonable accommodations and services under Title IX must register with SAS.

Confidentiality and Mandatory Reporting

All forms of discrimination based on sex, including sexual misconduct, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking offenses, are prohibited under NCCU's Sexual Misconduct Policy (POL 01.04.4). NCCU faculty and instructors are considered to be responsible employees and are required to report information regarding sexual misconduct to the University's Title IX Coordinator. The Sexual Misconduct Policy can be accessed through NCCU's Policies, Rules and Regulations website at www.nccu.edu/policies. Any individual may report a violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy (including a third-party or anonymous report) by contacting the Title IX Coordinator at (919) 530-7944 or TitleIX@nccu.edu, or submitting the online form through the Title IX Reporting Form, located at www.nccu.edu/titleix.

Other Campus Resources to Support NCCU Students Include:

- Student Advocacy Coordinator. The Student Advocacy Coordinator is available to assist students in navigating unexpected life events (e.g. short-term illness/injury, loss of a loved one, personal crises) and guide them to the appropriate University or community resources. Students may also receive assistance with resolving some emergency financial concerns; understanding NCCU policies, rules and regulations; or general problem-solving strategies. Contact Information: Student Services Building, Room G19, (919) 530-7492, studentadvocacy@nccu.edu.
- Counseling Center. The NCCU Counseling Center is staffed by licensed psychologists and mental health professionals who provide individual and group counseling, crisis intervention, substance abuse prevention and intervention, anger management, and other services. The Counseling Center also provides confidential resources for students reporting a violation of NCCU's Sexual Misconduct Policy. Contact Information: Student Health Building, 2nd Floor, (919) 530-7646, counseling@nccu.edu.
- University Police Department. The University Police Department ensures that students, faculty and staff have a safe and secure environment in which they can live, learn, and work. The Department provides a full range of police services, including investigating all crimes committed in and around its jurisdiction, making arrests, providing crime prevention/community programs, enforcing parking regulations and traffic laws, and maintaining crowd control for campus special events. Contact Information: 2010 Fayetteville Street, (919) 530-6106, nccupdinfo@nccu.edu.
- Veterans Services. One of the goals of the faculty and the NCCU Veterans Affairs Office's (VAO) is to provide a welcoming and supportive learning experience for veterans. Specifically, the VAO's primary goal is to provide a smooth transition from military to college life for veterans, service members, and dependents. If you wish, please contact your professor and/or the Director of the VAO during the first weeks of class so that we may support and assist you. During your matriculation, the VAO is here to assist you with the VA Educational Benefits process and offer overall support to ensure academic progression towards graduation. For more information please contact the VAO at 919-530-5000 or veteransaffairs@nccu.edu.

Academic Integrity, Plagiarism and Ethical Standards

Universities are unique communities committed to creating and transmitting knowledge through the freedom individuals have to explore ideas and to further their own capabilities. This freedom depends on the responsible behavior of all the members of the community who must treat each other with respect. They must allow each other to develop the full range of their capabilities and take full advantage of the institution's resources. Students are expected to abide by the University academic integrity policy. Do not receive or give any assistance on tests or projects unless specifies by the instructor. For further information regarding academic integrity, academic dishonesty, cheating, plagiarism, and sanctions, refer to <http://www.nccu.edu/catalog2k2/075-092.pdf>. Students are also expected to adhere to the Ethical standards of the American Counseling Association. If you have not already familiarized yourself with ACA Ethical standards and the Universities policies on academic integrity, it is recommended that you do so.

Plagiarism is the act of taking credit for someone else's work. In college, this usually involves writing, but other kinds of work can be plagiarized as well, including music, ideas, and artwork. Taking credit for work that someone else created is stealing and is a violation of intellectual property law. So plagiarism is more than just a violation of school policies and a professor's trust. It is an illegal activity that isn't so different than stealing someone's iPod or wallet. Any student paper where there is plagiarism is subject to a grade of ZERO or a major reduction in points. A student may also be reported to the administration. Information on plagiarism retrieved from:

- <http://www.plagiarism.org/>.

- Here is a video tutorial on Summarizing, Paraphrasing, and Quoting: A Guide to Doing it Right!: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qoCdhJsS6Bw>

As a part of this course you will be required to upload your assignments. Several of them will go through SafeAssign. SafeAssign is a tool used to prevent plagiarism and to create opportunities to help students identify how to properly attribute sources rather than paraphrase. SafeAssign is effective as both a deterrent and an educational tool. SafeAssign compares submitted assignments against a set of sources to identify areas of overlap between the submitted assignment and existing works. Go to this website to learn about how to read your SafeAssign Report: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eIAA\_YceP-Q

Adverse Weather and Eagle Alerts

Weather-Related NCCU Closings or Delayed Openings: During severe weather or natural disasters, people may be prevented from entering or leaving campus facilities for hours or days. Notice of a decision to close or delay opening NCCU will be communicated as quickly as possible by e-mail, phone trees, local radio and television stations. Call 919-530-7220 to hear a recorded message about University closings or delayed openings. Do not call University Police, Facilities Services, radio and television stations. When severe winter weather conditions are predicted, monitor weather reports closely. Information will be made available from NCCU's Information Line 919-530-7220. For more detailed information please go to <http://www.nccu.edu/health-safety/emergency/adverseweather.cfm> for the University's policy on adverse weather. To receive up-to-date information regarding campus emergencies please sign up for Eagle Alerts on the Emergency webpage.

1	Worldview Sharing	100	Assigned	Blackboard
2	Weekly Quizzes	120	Weekly	Blackboard
5	DREAM Project Outline	100	2/13	Blackboard

4	NCCU Diversity & Inclusion Training	250	See calendar of dates	Blackboard
5	DREAM Digital Stories	250	4/17	Blackboard
6	Final Exam	120	4/24	Blackboard

Total: 1180

1. Worldview Sharing (100 points)

Tell your story of how you see yourself in the world or how you see the world and yourself in it. Tell your truth. Instructor will be first to present her worldviews as a model from which to structure your informal presentations (during week 2). You will be assigned a date to present your worldview (2 students/week; 5 minutes) via a video post or voice recording to the Blackboard discussion board. Submit your video post or voice recording to the Worldview Discussion Forum and turn in an electronic Microsoft document copy of your worldview via Blackboard course assignments on your assigned presentation date by 11:59pm. Everyone will be required to kindly respond to each of your colleague's worldview videos/recordings (e.g. what resonated with you, words of encouragement/support, similarities/alignments with your worldview, etc.) by the end of the week (Mondays at 11:59pm). Responding to colleague's worldviews is counted towards your participation grade. See 'Course Information' tab on Blackboard for the worldview sharing presentation schedule.

2. Quizzes (120 points) & 6. Final Exam (120 points)

Weekly quizzes will be given throughout the semester. There will be a course readiness quiz to begin the semester, followed by 12 quizzes (multiple choice and true/false questions), with one given per week. The quizzes will cover material in the weekly assigned readings, as well as videos and instructor discussion for that particular week. No make-up quizzes will be given. A Final Exam will also be given during week 15 (final week) of this course. The exam will consist of questions (multiple choice and true/false) based on the information learned throughout the course, as well as information derived directly from the AATBS study materials (i.e. cultural and diversity counseling considerations as it relates to the areas of core counseling attributes, counseling skills and interventions, intake, assessment and diagnosis, areas of clinical focus, etc.).

3. Multicultural Counseling Considerations in Current News Events (MCCCNE) (100 points)

We are constantly exposed to current news events through different forms of media. Given the volume and types of the current news events we encounter, many of the messages conveyed are not consciously examined for meaning, influence, or multicultural counseling considerations. This assignment provides the opportunity to intentionally deconstruct, examine, and interpret the explicit and implicit cultural messages conveyed by various media sources about current news events, as they relate to multicultural counseling.

Please include the following required content in your MCCCNE assignment using software (PowerPoint or alternative are strongly encouraged):

- a. Identify recent current news event and provide source (i.e., attach or upload article, picture, video, link, etc.). You may examine any media of your choice (Internet, social media, magazines, television, radio, etc.).
- b. Caption: Provide a brief summary of the current news event selected.
- c. Cultural Learning: Identify and explain a cultural message (i.e., explicit or implicit) in the current news event selected.

- d. Multicultural Counseling Consideration and Action:
  - i. What is a potential multicultural counseling consideration associated with the identified cultural message in the current news event?
  - ii. What can a multicultural social justice counseling competent counselor (MSJCC) do to help a client dealing with issues associated with current news event?

4. NCCU Diversity & Inclusion Training Participation (250 points)

Being able to effectively facilitate the needs of individuals from diverse communities as a social justice multiculturally competent counselor requires additional knowledge-seeking and training, particularly in our ever-changing society. This semester you will be required to attend one of the three virtual live trainings offered by the NCCU Diversity and Inclusion Department and the LGBTA Resource Center and write a minimum 500-word reflection (1000 words maximum) on your experience. You will also be required to submit via Blackboard the certificate you will receive at the end of your training as proof of attendance. Please use the following link to register for a training (please note, the link to the Counseling and Higher Education Department training will be released on January 9th):

https://nccu.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_efeafYkVtNSqMK

The link to your selected training will be sent out a few days prior to your registered training date.

The training descriptions and dates of the trainings are as follows:

- Safe Zone - Language surrounding the LGBTQ+ community consistently changes. It's likely that you may have some questions, which is okay because you're human. This training begins with an introduction to the usage of pronouns, common terminology, and ways to be an effective ally to members of the LGBTQ+ community.
- Trans Zone - Similar to Safe Zone, this training dives a little deeper into the specificities of terminology and topics related to trans-identified individuals.
- Unconscious Bias - Bias is something that everyone has. However, that does not make you a bad person, it makes you human. And while you cannot eliminate your unconscious bias, you can learn how to notice it in yourself and decrease its effect on your interactions. In this training, we discuss the varying ways to slow our thinking down and make internal reflections on our own privileges and become agents of change.

Evaluation

This course will be graded using an A to F-system as follows:

90 and above	1062-1180 pts	A
80 - 89	944-1061 pts	B
70 - 79	826-943 pts	C
69 and below	0-825 pts	F

My grading philosophy is to reward the effort and high-quality work of actively engaged and responsible learners. Therefore, it is very important to me that I give the appropriate credit to those students who are: (1) actively engaged in their educational experience; (2) demonstrate professional responsibility; (3) consistently give tasks the necessary effort required; (4) perform all tasks with excellence; and (5) create high quality work products.

Exceptions to grading policy:

You are encouraged to consult me regarding questions or concerns related to how your assignment has been graded and for ways your performance or product can be improved. All assignments are final once submitted on due date (i.e., unsatisfactory assignments cannot be revised without instructor permission).

Policy on Incomplete Grade

Students who desire to receive a grade of “Incomplete” should submit a written request to the instructor. Students may be given a grade of “Incomplete” (I) at the discretion of the instructor when not all of the work required in the course has been completed for reasons beyond the control of the student (At least 80% of the work for the course should be completed). All “Incomplete” grades must be completed according to the agreement between the student and the instructor within the deadline established by the instructor, not to exceed one calendar year from the end of the semester in which the student was enrolled in the course.
